TWELVETH ANNUAL CHICAGOLAND
BREW PUB
&
MICROBREWERY
SHOOTOUT!

Saturday January 23, 2010

Irish-American Heritage Center Chicago, Illinois

You are one of the lucky attendees at the 12th Annual Chicagoland Brewpub and Microbrewery Shootout. This one-of-a-kind event features the finest beer and cuisine the best local breweries have to offer. Everyone knows Chicagoland Brewers produce some great beer, but this event allows the Chefs to shine as well. How does The Shootout work, you ask? It's simple. We asked each Brewer and Chef to select a beer, and pair it with an exceptional dish either on or off their menu. Whether brewing or cooking, quality and creativity are both tops. Now we're a competitive bunch. We love to give out awards, and that's where you come in. You get to choose the winners. Each Brewer has selected a most excellent beer, and each Chef a wonderful dish, and they both paired them together. You get to vote for your favorite beer, your favorite dish, and your favorite pairing. It's that simple! Many Brewers may have brought along additional beers; they're generous that way. You may even see an additional food item. Just keep in mind you are voting for the beer and food item selected by each Brewer and Chef. Please return your ballot to the ballot box at the CBS table on the stage no later than 4 P.M. This may be Chicago, but election fraud is not allowed. Everyone gets one vote! While you are on stage, you can browse through our wide selection of CBS merchandise, including short sleeve t-shirts and baseball caps, and brand new for 2010: long sleeve t-shirts and hoodies (the official winter uniform of the Brewer!) You can even renew your membership, so you don't miss out on any great CBS events throughout the year. So start sampling the extensive array of beer and food, and thinking about what will be your favorites. We know you're up to the task!

WELCOME!

About Chicago Beer Society

The Chicago Beer Society was founded in the basement of a west suburban(!) home in 1977. At that time, none of today's Shootout participants existed! In fact, it would be over 10 years before Chicago's longest surviving brewpub/microbrewery - Goose Island, would open. The Chicago Beer Society has gone on to be probably the most successful beer appreciation organization in the country. Our members are people who simply love good beer. We love to talk about it, write about it, look at it, haul it around (well, that's necessary, but not so much fun), but mostly taste it.

CBS and its members are well known across the country as well as certain beery hot spots abroad, as knowledgeable, unpretentious beer enthusiasts. Past and present members have been active outside this club organizing beer festivals, writing beer books and articles, serving on national beer organizations, brewing in brewpubs, judging beer and starting up brewing clubs around our area. We are now proud to include a number of professional brewers among our members and friends; and we hope to continue to serve them well. We hope you can join us too.

We are a wholly-owned subsidiary of nobody! That is to say, we are a purely volunteer organization. This gives us great freedom, but is also a lot of work. We are always looking for people who have the time and inclination to help out. Please sign up if you can; if not, at least seek out a volunteer or two and give them your hearty thanks.
